Yes, but with a condition. If SCE&G exceeds the proposed construction schedule contained in Exhibit E of the Application by 15 months or more, up to the maximum of 30 months, and if SCE&G exceeds cost projections (including the increases allowed in the projections by percentage increases in the Handy-Whitman Index and the application of allowed cost contingencies), then further use of the 30 month construction schedule contingency must be reviewed by ORS prior to SCE&G implementing the schedule adjustment. If ORS and SCE&G do not reach agreement regarding the change in schedule and/or cost projections within 30 days of SCE&G’s written request to ORS, then SCE&G, at its option, may seek Commission approval of the requested changes.
